Forces of Germany Slowly Give Way

French this Afternoon Claim that Along the River Aisne Their Arms are Meeting With Success in Battle With Kaiser's Warriors.

BERLIN ADMITS OFFICIALLY EVACUATION OF LEIGE

London Estimates the Strength of the French and Allied Army on the Aisne at 3,000,000 Men With a Battle Line Front of 110 Miles.

ITALY CALLS HER RESERVISTS AND CAUSES SOME UNEASINESS

Believed in France that Italy is Preparing to Take Part in the War — Germans Deny Stories of French and English Successes — Story of Destruction of Cruiser Hela.

ABANDON LEIGE

By Associated Press.

London, September 17.—A Rome dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company states that it is officially admitted in Berlin that the Germans have abandoned Liege.

ITALY'S CALL

London, September 17.—In a dispatch from Paris the correspondent of the Daily Telegram says that the Italian reservists in the French capital have been called for September 28. They believe, the correspondent says, that this means Italy's entrance into the war.

SWITCH HINDENBURG

By Associated Press.

Copenhagen, September 17.—General von Hindenburg, who has been directing the German forces in East Prussia, has been urgently summoned from East Prussia to take command of a division in the western area, according to a message received here from Stockholm.

AUSTRIANS ROUTED KING JOSEPH HIDES

London, September 17.—The Central News has given out a dispatch from its correspondent at Petrograd, who says that the retreating Austrian army in Galicia has lost all discipline and that the retirement has become a rout. According to a report from Vienna, the correspondent says Emperor Francis Joseph has left the Austrian capital for an unknown and unannounced destination.

FRENCH INTACT

Berlin, September 17.—Via wire less via Sayville, L. I.—An official report given out at army headquarters at midnight says the French front remains unchanged. The French attacks on a number of points, Tuesday night and Wednesday, were successfully repulsed by the Germans, who tween Etant and Thiaucourt. Third. On our right wing in Lorraine and the Vosges, there has been no change.

Near Braine, on French left center, Wednesday, September 16, via Paris.—There is an incessant roar of artillery along the entire line of battle in the vicinity of Braine where, for the last four days, the great forces of the allies and the Germans have been in close grips. The field itself, where the armies are fighting, is broken, consequently there is comparatively little visible evidence of the terrific struggle in progress, although hundreds of thousands of men are engaged in this vicinity. Detachments of artillery from the allied front fire shells with great rapidity at the German positions.

Overhead, French and British aeroplanes are flying hither and thither, endeavoring to locate the positions of the big German guns. These, however, are so well masked that they have not yet been discovered and they continue incessantly to launch their great projectiles in the direction of the allied forces. German aeroplanes appear to have vanished from the scene of action, for about a week past, none has been observed and British sharpshooters declare that they had accounted for so many that the others now hesitate to take the air. Many dashing incidents are being recorded of the extraordinary reckless bravery of the French troops.

AWAITING OUTCOME

By Associated Press.

London, Sept. 17.—The world has once more set the task of guessing how the terrific clash of arms of the heights, northward of the river Aisne, is progressing.

Berlin claims that the attacks of the allies have been repulsed and that the German counter attacks have succeeded, while it is asserted in London that the German counter attacks have been repulsed and that the invaders are slowly giving way. Sympathizers with both sides are thus met with directly conflicting statements which can be reconciled only on the assumption that the narrators are referring to different points in the vast field of action.

As the crow flies, the front of the opposing army, with the heavy reinforcements that have reached them, probably totaling in the neighborhood of 3,000,000 men, stretches for 110 miles. The Germans are in their selected positions with strong reinforcements, rushed up from Lorraine; consequently this great battle may yet prove to be one of the most decisive and momentous of the war.

The British and the French army seem to be attempting to repeat on the Aisne the turning movements carried out so successfully on the Marne and in the present case they have the additional incentive of knowing that, should the German right be again turned, there are no great defensive positions behind the invaders until they reach the river Meuse. The position of the army of the Crown Prince, making its way toward the Stenay Gap, remains full of interest. The French army which barred the exit of the Crown Prince to Toul, is still hurrying in pursuit of him.

GERMAN DENIALS

By Associated Press.

Washington, September 17.—The German Embassy today received the following wireless from Berlin:

"All the French and English reports of victories of battles in France are untrue. The German retreat of the western wing was a practical maneuver, not affecting the strategical position. The French attempt to break through the center of the German position was vigorously repulsed."

"There is confirmation of German successes at several points of the long extended battlefield. The Temps report that the losses of the British army in the recent fighting amounts to 15,000 dead and wounded.

TORPEDO RIPS CRUISER HELA

London, September 17.—The Harwich correspondent of the Daily Telegraph sends this story of how the German cruiser Hela was destroyed, as told by one of the crew of the submarine, E-9:

"In the early hours of Sunday morning two or three British submarines were stalking the Hela, about 6 miles off the German coast. The wind was freshening and the sea was beginning to get rough. The E-9 came to the surface at half past six o'clock and sighted the enemy, which was seen to be within range.

"With all possible speed the E-9 dived and, at a suitable depth, launched two torpedoes, at intervals of 16 seconds. An explosion followed.

"The E-9 remained below about a quarter of an hour and then came to the surface, briefly, for a survey, which showed the Hela listing badly. There were other German ships in the vicinity but none were active fighting units.

"The submarine prudently dived again at once. After an interval of something over a quarter of an hour it came to the surface again, but the Hela had disappeared. The submarine got away safely, but was unable to make a report of her achievement to the Admiralty until today, when she first got within her wireless range. The submarine crew say their boat was never seen by the enemy, either before or after the blow was struck."

1800 ARE TRAITORS

By Associated Press.

Berlin, September 15.—It is reported here from Vienna that 1,800 Galician traitors have been brought into Graz, Austria, where they are awaiting sentence. They are said to have been paid by Russia to signal the positions of the Austrian armies.

CARDEN TALK IS REGRETTED

By Associated Press.

Washington, September 17.—Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British Ambassador, called at the State Department today and formally expressed his regret for the publication of an interview attributed to Sir Lionel Carden, British minister of Mexico, criticizing the United States for withdrawing troops from Vera Cruz.

BULLETINS

By Associated Press.

Copenhagen, September 17.—Reports that the Austrians attempted to cross the river Drina with 90,000 men, but were repulsed with great losses, are declared to be untrue from official Austro-Hungarian sources.

London, September 17.—Telegraphing from Naestricht, Holland, the correspondent of the Reuter Telegraph Company says that dispatches received from Cologne, and three other towns on the Rhine, indicate that these points are strengthening their fortifications to meet a possible advance of the allies.

The business session began at 9:05 with reading of the minutes of Wednesday's session. Dr. J. C. Arbuckle, district superintendent of Lancaster district, was called and made his report.

The name of Dr. A. M. Mann was called and his report read.

Dr. Levi Gilbert, editor of the Western, was introduced to the Conference and made a few remarks on the work of the paper.

Dr. J. C. Jackson rose to a question of privilege, and spoke in commendation of Dr. Arbuckle, whose term of service expired. It was a masterly effort characteristic of Dr. Jackson, full of wit, humor and sound sense, permeated with affectionate feeling and love. Dr. Arbuckle was presented with a Webster dictionary and a purse for his wife. He responded in words of appreciation equal to the occasion.

Dr. J. B. Hingley, secretary of the Board of Conference Claimants was introduced and addressed the Conference. Bishop Thirkield announced a check for $250 from this board.

At 11:50 the Conference went into executive session.

The reports of the three superintendents, made during the morning session, showed healthy growth in membership and every department in splendid condition.

At two o'clock Thursday afternoon Bishop Moore presided over a meeting of the Retired Ministers' Association, at the Baptist church and at 3 o'clock Rev. J. W. Dillon presided over a meeting of the Ohio Conference Historical society, and Bishop David H. Moore, D. D., LL. D., delivered the principal address of the session.

The Evangelistic Hour, at 4 o'clock presided over by Rev. E. M. Ellsworth, was one of deep interest.

HOW THE WAR AFFECTS TRADE

New York, Sept. 17.—Financial attention was drawn to the effect of the European war on the trade of this country as illustrated in the import and export figures for August, compiled by the Department of Commerce at Washington. Merchandise imports for that month were $29,400,000 against $137,652,000 the same month last year. Exports aggregated $110,328,000 against $188,000,000 in August, 1913. For the eight months of the calendar year imports show an increase of $114,000,000 and exports a decrease of almost $104,000,000. With these adverse conditions in mind, it appeared to be the consensus of financial opinion that much headway had been made in the process of re-establishing normal conditions between this country and Europe.

TAKE OFF THAT STRAW BONNET

Tuesday was September 15. A day that is coming to be recognized in the United States as one of national observance and while yet in its infancy as an immovable feast is approaching the time when it will be recognized in red print on the nation's calendar.

It is the day when we doff our straw turbans to the good Goddess of Fall and by the decree of Dame Fashion are expected to keep it doffed until the blue jays and honey bees see fit to announce its return.

In many places the demise of the straw hat becomes violent if it shows any inclination to linger beyond the 15th, and while it may be perfectly safe to fare abroad after that date in the tropical headwear, it is tempting fate to do so.

WOMEN'S GYMN CLASS STARTS OCTOBER 1.

At a meeting held Monday afternoon by the officers of the Women's Physical Training class, which gained such a wide popularity last winter, it was decided that the classes be reopened this year October 1, and, as formerly, will be held thrice weekly in the Armory hall under the direction of Physical Director McClung of the Y. M. C. A. As before, the classes, which conclude before the first of January, will probably close with a public exhibit.

Instead of the monthly assessment plan of financing the project, as was employed last year, the assessments will be fixed at $1.50 each. A class of 100 or more is expected. All applications are expected to be filed before October 1 with any of the following officers: Misses Clara Thurston, Pauline Pine, Emily Tansey, Vera Veal, Edith Gardner, Mrs. Frank Fullerton, Mrs. Frank Kennedy.

Budget Commission Personnel Changed

By a decision of the Ohio Supreme court announced Tuesday the membership of the County Budget Commission throughout the state is changed.

While only one member of the Commission is affected by the decision—the president of the largest school district retiring in certain instances and the city solicitor in certain other instances retiring, and the prosecuting attorney of the county, in every instance, being restored to membership on the commission—nevertheless the change is one of vast importance and really should result, taking the entire state into consideration, to the advantage of the taxpayers.

The original statute creating the Budget Commission provided for three members—the county auditor, the mayor of the largest municipality in the county and prosecuting attorney of the county. This law gave the county two members on the Commission and the municipality one.

Later this statute was amended, changing the personnel of the Commission so as to give the city two representatives on the Commission and the county only one.

The enactment of the later statute, it is claimed, was urged by the larger cities, the claim being that they should control the Commission, because they were larger contributors to the public funds.

The Supreme court holds that the later statute is void and inoperative, thus restoring the Commission as composed originally.

In nearly all of the counties of the state the Commission as provided in the original law, now restored by the ruling of the court is more satisfactory. The change removes from the Commission one of the heaviest tax spending officials and restores one who spends but very little of the public funds.

The schools are, perhaps, the largest users of funds, especially the city schools, and it is safe to say that far better rates of taxation can be secured by eliminating from the Commission, which fixes the rates of taxation, the representative of that branch of the public service which is always demanding more funds, generally receiving more, and which is never provided for to its satisfaction.

Under the most economical management possible and under the most favorable of conditions, it is a difficult task to secure enough revenue to conduct the public schools according to the high standard demanded by later day methods. In order that other branches of the public service may not suffer by reason of lack of money, it is necessary sometimes to cut the school levy to a point, which is ruinous in the opinion of school board members. The official directly and singly interested in the schools can not be nearly so economical as the man whose interests are centered in other branches of the public service.

The repeal of the law which provided for the Budget Commission and provided "interior limitations" in the matter of taxation, is one of the bits of destructive legislation which might have been omitted to the advantage of the taxpayers of the state or if special conditions in a few localities demanded some legislative action, to provide needed relief, it might have been more carefully done.

The sweeping change accomplished by the repeal of the original law and the enactment of the law just held invalid by the Supreme court, while furnishing some measure of relief in particular instances has been found, in view of the tremendous additions, made to the duplicate by the Warren law, to lay down the bars so that the powers of the officials inclined to be extravagant in the expenditure of the public money, were not sufficiently restricted.

Most people are pleased that the Supreme court found a way to restore a part of the original law and only regret that the decision was not far reaching enough to restore the "interior limitations" provided for in the original law.

Russian Domination Preferable to the Massacres In Belgium and France

By SAMUEL HARDEN CHURCH, Secretary Carnegie Institute

THE murder of the Austrian crown prince, a usurper and invader, means nothing compared with the murder of the tens of thousands of happy men who have already fallen before the emperor's impotent vengeance. Russian domination, although there was no danger of that, WOULD HAVE BEEN FAR PREFERABLE TO THE MASSACRES IN BELGIUM AND FRANCE.

THE EMPEROR'S INEXCUSABLE PROVOCATION OF WAR HAS STUNG HUMANITY TO THE INNER-MOST DEPTHS OF ITS SOUL. BEIDES DRENCHING EUROPE WITH HUMAN BLOOD, HE IS GIVING HER A NEW POPULATION OF WEEPING WIDOWS AND BEREFT MOTHERS OF FATHERLESS CHILDREN AND OF MEN WITHOUT ARMS AND LEGS.

He has made himself the chief delinquent in the greatest outrage that has ever crushed the heart of the world, and in the end an impaled humanity will not stop until it has struck the scepters from the arrogant hands that now hold them in Germany, in Austria—yes, and in Russia.

Poetry For Today

IN SUNSHINE OF SEPTEMBER.

In the sunshine of September, in the golden light of fall,
Through the clearings by the pasture
I can hear the Bob Whites call
In the sunshine bright and splendid.

Over all this hate and strife
Shines the tenderness and beauty
Of the quiet dreams of life.

In the sunshine of September gleams
a beauty in the clod.
And the fields are fields of asters and
the stately golden-rod;

In the sunshine, laughing, smiling,
Love goes by to dream with those
Who in haunts of June remembered
Dream the old dreams of the rose.

In the sunshine of September there is
peace in hearts that pray
For the love of God to touch them in their conflict far away;

In the sunshine of the autumn
All the world goes forth to sing
In the gladness of the spirit
That the dreams of beauty bring.

Let's be thinking of something else
Than battle and grief and tears;

Let's be thinking of things to come
In the bloom of the far-on years;

Let's be thinking of kindlier hearts,
And the spirit that brings again
The beauty of earth and tenderness
Of Christ to the souls of men.

Every one has heard of "the three tailors of Tooley street," but it is not generally known that only two of them were actually tailors. The three men were John Grose, tailor, Tooley street; Thomas Satterly, tailor, Weston street, and George Sandham, grocer, Bermondsey street. They were accustomed to meet after business hours at a public house in Tooley street in Southwark to drink beer, smoke their pipes, talk politics and discuss public affairs. ## CORN CUTTERS EXTINGUISH FLAMES

Blood Hounds Take Up Trail and Follow It Toward Railroad Where it Is Lost—No Reason Known for Miscreant's Act—Barn Is Largest in Northern Fayette County.

Only the timely discovery of a blaze kindled in mammoth barn on the Grant Hays farm, three miles north of Bloomingburg on the Bloomingburg and Midway pike, prevented the structure and all of its contents from being licked up by flames late Wednesday night, and a few hours later bloodhounds were trailing the miscreant who kindled the blaze, but the search was fruitless and the trail was eventually lost near the B. & O. railroad, north of Bloomingburg.

It was between eight and nine o'clock at night, and two corn cutters were sleeping on the second floor of the barn. They were aroused by a light in the barn, and the noise of someone running from the building. A moment later the fumes of burning straw, and the appearance of the fire gaining rapid headway warned the men that the building was really on fire, and that prompt and strenuous work was necessary to prevent the flames eating their way into nearby hay and straw. Springing down the ladder to the floor below the men dashed toward the fire, and while one was drawing the burning bale of straw from among the other straw, the other rushed to a nearby water tank and seizing a bucket he dashed bucketful after bucketful of water on the flames until they were extinguished. One of the men had his hands painfully burned where he had grasped the burning straw and flung it back from the main stack.

A large quantity of baled straw and hay was stored in the barn, and if the men had hesitated for a moment, the flames would have spread beyond control.

As soon as the men had extinguished the blaze, they notified Mr. Stanley Little, who resides on the Hays farm, and he in turn notified Mr. Hays, who resides on West Court street in this city.

Mr. Hays determined to catch the guilty party if he could possibly do so, and wired at once for the Cedarville bloodhounds, which were upon the scene shortly after eleven o'clock, and taking up the trail followed it across several fields, along the highway and to a point near the B. & O. railroad, where it is supposed the man boarded a north-bound freight, and escaped.

Great excitement filled the neighborhood, and quite a number joined in the search for the miscreant. Everything indicated that the man who kindled the fire, did so with intent to destroy the big barn. So far as known Mr. Hays or Mr. Little have no enemies who would seek such cowardly means of "getting even".

It is not believed that a tramp did the deed, but indications are that it was someone who was acquainted with the surroundings.

SPLENDID OPEN AIR SERVICE

STATE FAIR A BIG SUCCESS MID-WINTER SHOW TO BE HELD

A splendid open air service was held at the Court House corner Wednesday evening. The advance guard of open air workers commenced the meeting at the scheduled time, and soon quite a crowd collected, and an interesting meeting was soon on.

The spirited singing of gospel songs and the prayers and speaking soon attracted quite a number of interested and respectful hearers. The spirit of conviction was present, and one young man was converted.

The Rev. F. R. Crooks, of Grove City, in a few well chosen words introduced the first speaker, who was Rev. A. L. Brokaw, of Circleville, a man who has had large experience in street work, and who by the use of interesting stories soon had the attention of the audience. Others of the ministers took part in testimonies, prayers and singing and a deep spiritual interest was manifest.

All ministers and friends interested in promoting these meetings will meet at the church this evening at 6:15, where all will fall into line and march to the place of meeting.

Plans call for the building of a bath house just south of the hotel, and both water and vapor baths are planned for patrons of the place.

It is expected that the results will be so beneficial that the fame of the well known health resort, will be greatly enhanced.

The baths are to be constructed as a result of an opinion from a well known authority who stated that with the medical properties of the water, a cure for rheumatism was certain if the water is used for drinking and bathing.

GERMANS MAKE DECISIVE STAND

Strong Position Chosen to Give Battle to Pursuing Allies.

LONG ENGAGEMENT EXPECTED

All Available Reserves of the German Army Being Rushed Into France From Cologne—Brunt of Conflict North of Rheims, West of the Argonne Ridge and North of Verdun. The Official Communications.

London, Sept. 17.—The German right wing is now encircled by the allies, according to an Amiens dispatch to the Daily News.

Paris, Sept. 17.—Beyond the meager announcement contained in the war department's official communiqué that the allied forces had not given way at any point, Paris knows little of the situation north of the Aisne. From various reports arriving here it is evident that the great battle in which the Germans are expected to make their decisive stand in France has not yet begun in earnest, and that only skirmishes have occurred between the rear guards of the enemy and the pursuing forces of the allies by which they were overtaken.

The position taken up by the Germans is well chosen, and a long engagement between the opposing lines can be expected. According to the best information available here the brunt of the conflict is north of Rheims, west of the Argonne ridge and north of Verdun. The resistance which the Germans are offering is, however, almost impossible to estimate, nor is it clear whether the enemy intends to make his last stand in his present position or merely cover his retreat to the river Meuse.

One report received here is to the effect that all the available reserves of the Germans are to be rushed into France from their base at Cologne.

The skill displayed by the German commanders in keeping their forces practically intact is taken to indicate that the enemy is preparing for a battle on a huge scale, and no one here believes that the Germans will withdraw from France without a final and decisive test of the strength of the opposing lines.

The French war office's communiqué reads: "Military headquarters has not communicated any new details of the engagements proceeding on our front. As has already been said, nothing must be taken as a surprise which happens in a battle lasting several days, and there is no conclusion to be inferred in any sense. We believe, however, we have not given way at any point."

are reforming their main lines, filling up the gaps in the regiments that lost the heaviest from the reserve lines, and refitting with ammunition.

With the armies of General Von Kluck and General Von Buerow combined north of the Aisne river, the army of the Grand Duke of Wurttemburg holds the line from the river Aisne to Craonne, north of Rheims, where the armies of Crown Prince Frederick Wilhelm and of the crown prince of Bavaria are in complete strength, with headquarters still maintained at Montfaucon.

The Germans hold the lines of the Meuse, and have straightened out their lines so that they are now in touch with the strong fortress of Metz and the German reserve lines in Lorraine.

The British official press bureau gave out a statement which says: "The general position along the Aisne river continues very favorable. The enemy has delivered several counter attacks, especially against the First army corps. These have been repulsed and the Germans have given way slightly before our troops and the French armies on our right and left. The enemy's loss is very heavy, and we have taken 200 prisoners."

AUSTRIAN ARMIES GETTING TOGETHER

Berlin Reports Big Victory In Eastern Theater of War.

GENERAL DANCKL AVOIDS TRAP

Russians Claim to Have Inflicted Terrible Loss Upon the Austrian Armies Before They Effected a Junction—Fermidable German Force in East Prussia About to Invade Russian Poland.

London, Sept. 17.—From the eastern theater of the war come conflicting reports.

The general staff at Berlin authorizes the announcement that the German-Austrian forces along the battle front have won a decided victory. According to the admission of Russian prisoners taken in East Prussia the Russian Vilna army has been forced southward to positions on the Vistula river. The report also says that the Russian attempt to isolate the army of General Danckl, which comprised the Austrian left wing, has failed. This army has joined the Austrian main army.

The Germans claim that they have evidence that the Russian mobilization was nearly completed before the war was declared from the fact that parts of the Third Siberian rifle corps were defeated in the battle near Lyck. Their mobilization and transportation to the front could not have been accomplished, the Germans claim, in the period of only six weeks.

A dispatch from Rome says that the two Austrian armies commanded by General Danckl and General Aufenberg have joined forces at Rzesow, thirteen miles northeast of Jarostow, and that in the course of this operation the Russians inflicted upon them a loss that cost 40 per cent of their numbers.

A report from St. Petersburg claims that the Russian advance is closing in on Przemysl, and that the Russians have captured and destroyed on the Vistula an armed steamship and a number of other steam craft. Another report says that the Austro-German forces in their retreat left thirty-six cannon upon which were the kaiser's initials. The Russians reported that they took 5,000 prisoners at Turubin and 5,000 at Lubin. Kichalowski, the Russian military critic, Mistaken for Burglar.

Dayton, Sept. 17.—Mistaken for a burglar, Joseph Parker, a tobacco dealer of West Carrollton, south of this city, was shot and badly injured by C. R. Adams, a neighbor, when Parker called at Adams' house to discuss a prospective hunting trip.

says that the way is now clear for the Russian advance to Budapest.

Another St. Petersburg dispatch dispatch says: "Besides at least 100,000 prisoners taken by the Russian army during the fighting of recent days the loss to Austria during the invasion in killed and wounded is undoubtedly 250,000 men, perhaps more."

The Germans have concentrated in East Prussia a force of 750,000 men. This is believed to be a larger force than is necessary for the defense of the province, and it is considered that this force may be used for the invasion of Russian Poland and the capture of Warsaw.

THE GERMAN SIDE OF IT

London, Sept. 17.—An official statement issued by the German war office at Berlin emphasizes the fact that the Germans have now succeeded in checking the entire offensive movement of the allies in France.

It is stated that the German army is now entrenched in new strong positions, and that at a number of points the Germans have succeeded in driving the French-British lines back on their supports. So far as the entire situation in France is concerned, the reports of the general staff all agree that the new plan of campaign is working out very satisfactorily.

It is also made evident that the German forces which are operating in East Prussia continue to drive the Russians back, and it is believed that an invasion in force of Russian Poland may be about to commence.

On both the eastern and western frontiers, the report says, the German forces are carrying out their general plan of campaign with uninterrupted success.

A report from St. Petersburg claims that the Russian advance is closing in on Przemysl, and that the Russians have captured and destroyed on the Vistula an armed steamship and a number of other steam craft.

Another report says that the Austro-German forces in their retreat left thirty-six cannon upon which were the kaiser's initials. The Russians reported that they took 5,000 prisoners at Turubin and 5,000 at Lubin. Kichalowski, the Russian military critic,

OHIO HAPPENINGS

Found Plot to Boost Prices.

Cleveland, Sept. 17.—The grand jury investigating the advance in food prices reported that its members are convinced that combinations control the prices of meats and staple groceries, and that "prices were forced up by agreement and without any logical reason for the increases." The jury however, is unable, it says, to obtain sufficient evidence to convict. No true bill was returned.

KAISER NOT A WAR LORD

Bordeaux, Sept. 17.—Paul Albert Helmer, the Alsatian patriot who while at the head of the anti-German league had to give up his propaganda immediately before the outbreak of the present war and flee for his life, is now here leading the life temporarily of a peaceful citizen. Speaking of Kaiser Wilhelm he said:

"The kaiser, whose character I know so well, is not a war lord. If the world knew him as I do he would not be so generally misunderstood in this respect. He is neither a war lord nor a strong military character in the Bismarckian sense. The kaiser is merely a weak, vain and very emotional man. As he is fond of show, so also is he at heart attached to peace; but once the present crisis arose he was driven headlong into a current which proved too strong for him."

REVENUE BILL IS FORMING

Various Forms of Negotiable Paper to Be Taxed.

Washington, Sept. 17.—Work was begun by Chairman Underwood and other members of the house committee on ways and means on the proposed emergency revenue bill. In the caucus held by the Democrats the committee received definite instructions concerning what was to be taxed that will yield approximately $65,000,000. The rest of the $100,000,000 required for the purpose of government will be raised by the levy of taxes on various forms of negotiable paper enumerated in Schedule A of the war revenue act passed by the Republican congress at the time of the Spanish war in 1898. As there is a wide range of articles in this schedule, the work of the committee will consist in choosing the articles that will produce the needed $35,000,000 or so of revenue.

The instruments to be chosen for purpose of taxation at this time and the rates that will be imposed are details that have not yet been perfected by the committee.

The Belgian commission, headed by Minister of Justice Carton de Wiart, was received at the White House and laid before the president the Belgian government's charges of atrocities alleged to have been perpetrated by German troops on Belgian citizens.

Diplomats here regarded the move as very clever, although they were inclined to fear it would be satisfying neither side. The president in his letter to the Belgian, as well as in his reply to the Belgians, seized upon the opportunity of again reiterating his fervent prayer that the war soon will be over.

Y.M.C.A. SECRETARY OUTLINES WINTER EDUCATIONAL WORK

Classes Will be Taught in Bookkeeping, Stenography, Mechanical and Structural Drawing and Show Card Writing Under Direction of Practical Local Teachers—Classes Start Next Month.

"We are making every effort to establish a precedent in Y. M. C. A. education work in Washington C. H. this winter and indications point to a most successful season."

Secretary Walter Patton of the Y. M. C. A. delivered himself of the above statement in discussing the plans and outlook of the campaign work to be undertaken under the auspices of the educational department of the Association this fall and winter, and which will be launched during the month of October.

"One thing that I want understood, particularly, is that these educational classes, unlike many others, will be of a personal nature," said Mr. Patton. "The training will not be applied to the class, as a class only. Each student will receive such attention from the teacher as will allow him to advance best. In this way, the student will advance just as rapidly as his time or ability to study will permit."

"The courses are thoroughly practical and each instructor is using the same methods by day as he will teach his pupils at night. It will take an enrollment of ten to start any class. It is to be understood, however, that each class that is started will complete the year's work."

"Classes will be held in the evenings at the Y. M. C. A. from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. In opening this department we expect to start with four courses—stenography, mechanical and structural drawing, bookkeeping, show card writing—all under the direction of competent teachers of practical experience. If we can secure the necessary enrollment of ten pupils to a class we will later take up courses of instruction in agriculture, manual training and salesmanship."

Mr. Patton, in launching this highly commendable work is supported by a corps of instructors of splendid ability in their various departments.

SECOND DAY OF THE OHIO CONFERENCE

More than 300 ministers were present at the Thursday's sessions.

WEDNESDAY P. M.

The Wednesday afternoon and evening sessions of the Ohio Conference were of great interest, and each session was liberally attended, both by pastors and the laity.

The feature of the evangelistic hour was a stirring address by the statesman of the conference, Rev. W. F. Oldham, D. D., who spent part of his life in India, and who for four years was a Bishop. He is now the corresponding secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions, and is recognized as one of the most able divines in the missionary department.

Rev. Alpha G. Kynett, D. D., field secretary of the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension, delivered a very able address at the foreign missionary and church extension work as affected by the European war.

Rev. Oldham branded the war a result of the absence of Christianity among the warring nations. He spoke of the horrors of war, and the need of continuous prayer for peace. Other statements made were: Every spot where missions are sorely troubled and in need of aid; let the American people to a man stand by what President Wilson urged; "I thank God for President Wilson, the man of peace"; calls for aid will come soon, and the proper way to respond is through the Board of Foreign Missions.

Following his address stereoptican views, taken in India, were shown and explained by Rev. Baker.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 18TH.

8:30 a. m.—Devotional service. Conducted by Bishop Moore. Conference business.

2:00 p. m.—Anniversary of the Woman's Home Missionary Society, Mrs. E. W. Seeds, corresponding secretary, presiding. Address, "World's Power in America," Rev. B. S. Haywood, D. D.

London, September 17.—A Rome dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company states that it is officially admitted in Berlin that the Germans have abandoned Liege.

ITALY'S CALL

London, September 17.—In a dispatch from Paris the correspondent of the Daily Telegram says that the Italian reservists in the French capital have been called for September 28. They believe, the correspondent says, that this means Italy's entrance into the war.

SWITCH HINDENBURG

By Associated Press.

Copenhagen, September 17.—General Von Hindenburg, who has been directing the German forces in East Prussia, has been urgently summoned from East Prussia to take command of a division in the western area, according to a message received here from Stockholm.

AUSTRIANS ROUTED KING JOSEPH HIDES

London, September 17.—The Central News has given out a dispatch from its correspondent at Petrograd, who says that the retreating Austrian army in Galicia has lost all discipline and that the retirement has become a rout. According to a report from Vienna, the correspondent says Emperor Francis Joseph has left the Austrian capital for an unknown and unannounced destination.

FRENCH INTACT

Berlin, September 17.—Via wire less via Sayville, L. I.—An official report given out at army headquarters at midnight says the French front remains unchanged. The French attacks on a number of points, Tuesday night and Wednesday, were successfully repulsed by the Germans, who tween Etant and Thiaucourt. Third. On our right wing in Lorraine and the Vosges, there has been no change.

Near Braine, on French left center, Wednesday, September 16, via Paris.—There is an incessant roar of artillery along the entire line of battle in the vicinity of Braine where, for the last four days, the great forces of the allies and the Germans have been in close grips. The field itself, where the armies are fighting, is broken, consequently there is comparatively little visible evidence of the terrific struggle in progress, although hundreds of thousands of men are engaged in this vicinity. Detachments of artillery from the allied front fire shells with great rapidity at the German positions.

Overhead, French and British aeroplanes are flying hither and thither, endeavoring to locate the positions of the big German guns. These, however, are so well masked that they have not yet been discovered and they continue incessantly to launch their great projectiles in the direction of the allied forces. German aeroplanes appear to have vanished from the scene of action, for about a week past, none has been observed and British sharpshooters declare that they had accounted for so many that the others now hesitate to take the air. Many dashing incidents are being recorded of the extraordinary reckless bravery of the French troops.

AWAITING OUTCOME

By Associated Press.

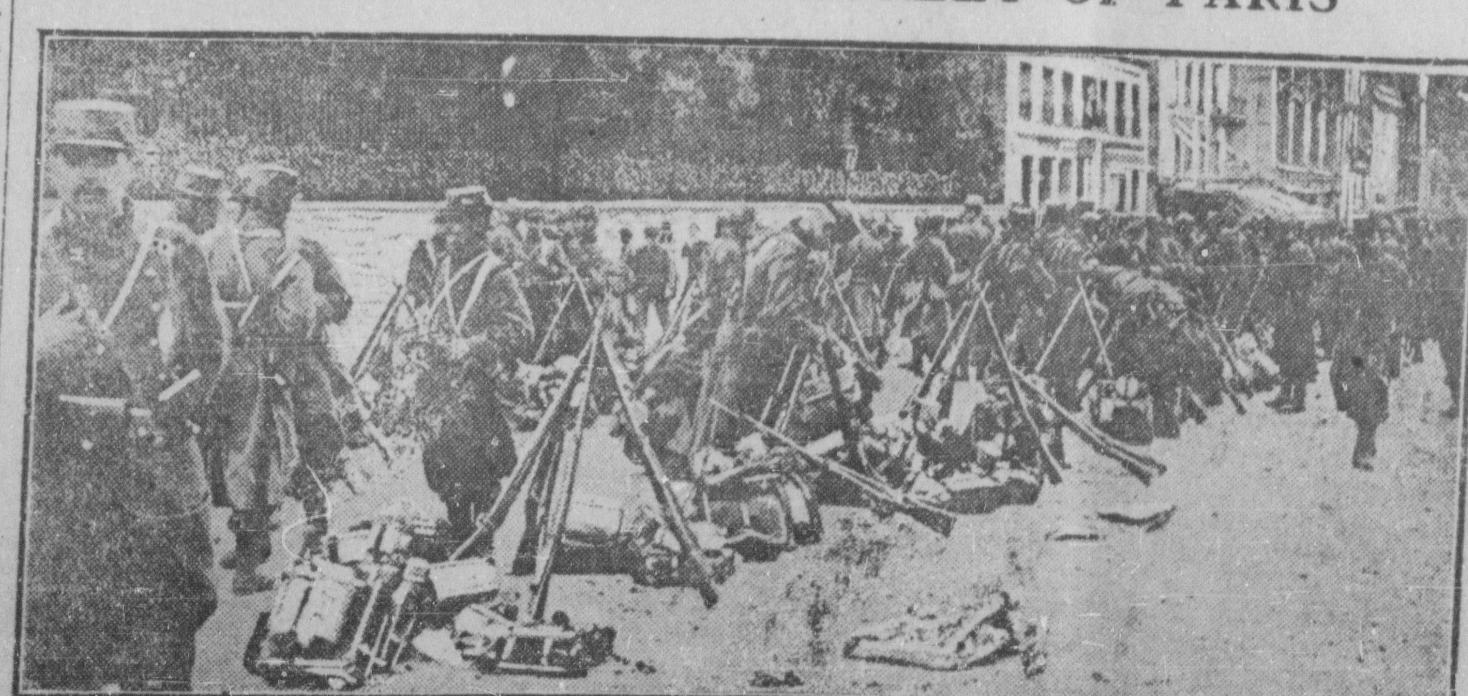

London, Sept. 17.—The world has once more been set the task of guessing how the terrific clash of arms of the heights, northward of the river Aisne, is progressing.

Berlin claims that the attacks of the allies have been repulsed and that the German counter attacks have succeeded, while it is asserted in London that the German counter attacks have been repulsed and that the invaders are slowly giving way. Sympathizers with both sides are thus met with directly conflicting statements which can be reconciled only on the assumption that the narrators are referring to different points in the vast field of action.

As the crow flies, the front of the opposing army, with the heavy reinforcements that have reached them, probably totaling in the neighborhood of 3,000,000 men, stretches for 110 miles. The Germans are in their selected positions with strong reinforcements, rushed up from Lorraine; consequently this great battle may yet prove to be one of the most decisive and momentous of the war.

The British and the French army seem to be attempting to repeat on the Aisne the turning movements carried out so successfully on the Marne and in the present case they have the additional incentive of knowing that, should the German right be again turned, there are no great defensive positions behind the positions of the Austrian armies.

invaders until they reach the river Meuse. The position of the army of the Crown Prince, making its way toward the Stenay Gap, remains full of interest. The French army which barred the exit of the Crown Prince by Toul, is still hurrying in pursuit of him.

GERMAN DENIALS

By Associated Press.

Washington, September 17.—The German Embassy today received the following wireless from Berlin:

"All the French and English reports of victories of battles in France are untrue. The German retreat of the western wing was a practical maneuver, not affecting the strategical position. The French attempt to break through the center of the German position was vigorously repulsed."

"There is confirmation of German successes at several points of the long extended battlefield. The Temps report that the losses of the British army in the recent fighting amounts to 15,000 dead and wounded.

TORPEDO RIPS CRUISER HELA

London, September 17.—The Harwich correspondent of the Daily Telegraph sends this story of how the German cruiser Hela was destroyed, as told by one of the crew of the submarine, E-9:

"In the early hours of Sunday morning two or three British submarines were stalking the Hela, about 6 miles off the German coast. The wind was freshening and the sea was beginning to get rough. The E-9 came to the surface at half past six o'clock and sighted the enemy, which was seen to be within range.

"With all possible speed the E-9 dived and, at a suitable depth, launched two torpedoes, at intervals of 16 seconds. An explosion followed.

"The E-9 remained below about a quarter of an hour and then came to the surface, briefly, for a survey, which showed the Hela listing badly. There were other German ships in the vicinity but none were active fighting units.

"The submarine prudently dived again at once. After an interval of something over a quarter of an hour it came to the surface again, but the Hela had disappeared. The submarine got away safely, but was unable to make a report of her achievement to the Admiralty until today, when she first got within her wireless range. The submarine crew say their boat was never seen by the enemy, either before or after the blow was struck."

At 11:50 the Conference went into executive session.

The reports of the three superintendents, made during the morning session, showed a healthy growth in membership and every department in splendid condition.

At two o'clock Thursday afternoon Bishop Moore presided over a meeting of the Retired Ministers' Association, at the Baptist church and at 3 o'clock Rev. J. W. Dillon presided over a meeting of the Ohio Conference Historical society, and Bishop David H. Moore, D. D., LL. D., delivered the principal address of the session.

The Evangelistic Hour, at 4 o'clock presided over by Rev. E. M. Ellsworth, was one of deep interest.

HOW THE WAR AFFECTS TRADE

New York, Sept. 17.—Financial attention was drawn to the effect of the European war on the trade of this country as illustrated in the import and export figures for August, compiled by the department of commerce at Washington. Merchandise imports for that month were $29,400,000 against $137,652,000 the same month last year. Exports aggregated $110,328,000 against $188,000,000 in August, 1913. For the eight months of the calendar year imports show an increase of $114,000,000 and exports a decrease of almost $104,000,000. With these adverse conditions in mind, it appeared to be the consensus of financial opinion that much headway had been made in the process of re-establishing normal conditions between this country and Europe.

TAKE OFF THAT STRAW BONNET

Tuesday was September 15.

A day that is coming to be recognized in the United States as one of national observance and while yet in its infancy as an immovable feast is approaching the time when it will be recognized in red print on the nation's calendar.

It is the day when we doff our straw turbans to the good Goddess of Fall and by the decree of Dame Fashion are expected to keep it doffed until the blue jays and honey bees see fit to announce its return.

In many places the demise of the straw hat becomes violent if it shows any inclination to linger beyond the 15th, and while it may be perfectly safe to fare abroad after that date in the tropical headwear, it is tempting fate to do so.

WOMEN'S GYMN CLASS STARTS OCTOBER 1.

At a meeting held Monday afternoon by the officers of the Women's Physical Training class, which gained such a wide popularity last winter, it was decided that the classes be reopened this year October 1, and, as formerly, will be held thrice weekly in the Armory hall under the direction of Physical Director McClung of the Y. M. C. A. As before, the classes, which conclude before the first of January, will probably close with a public exhibit.

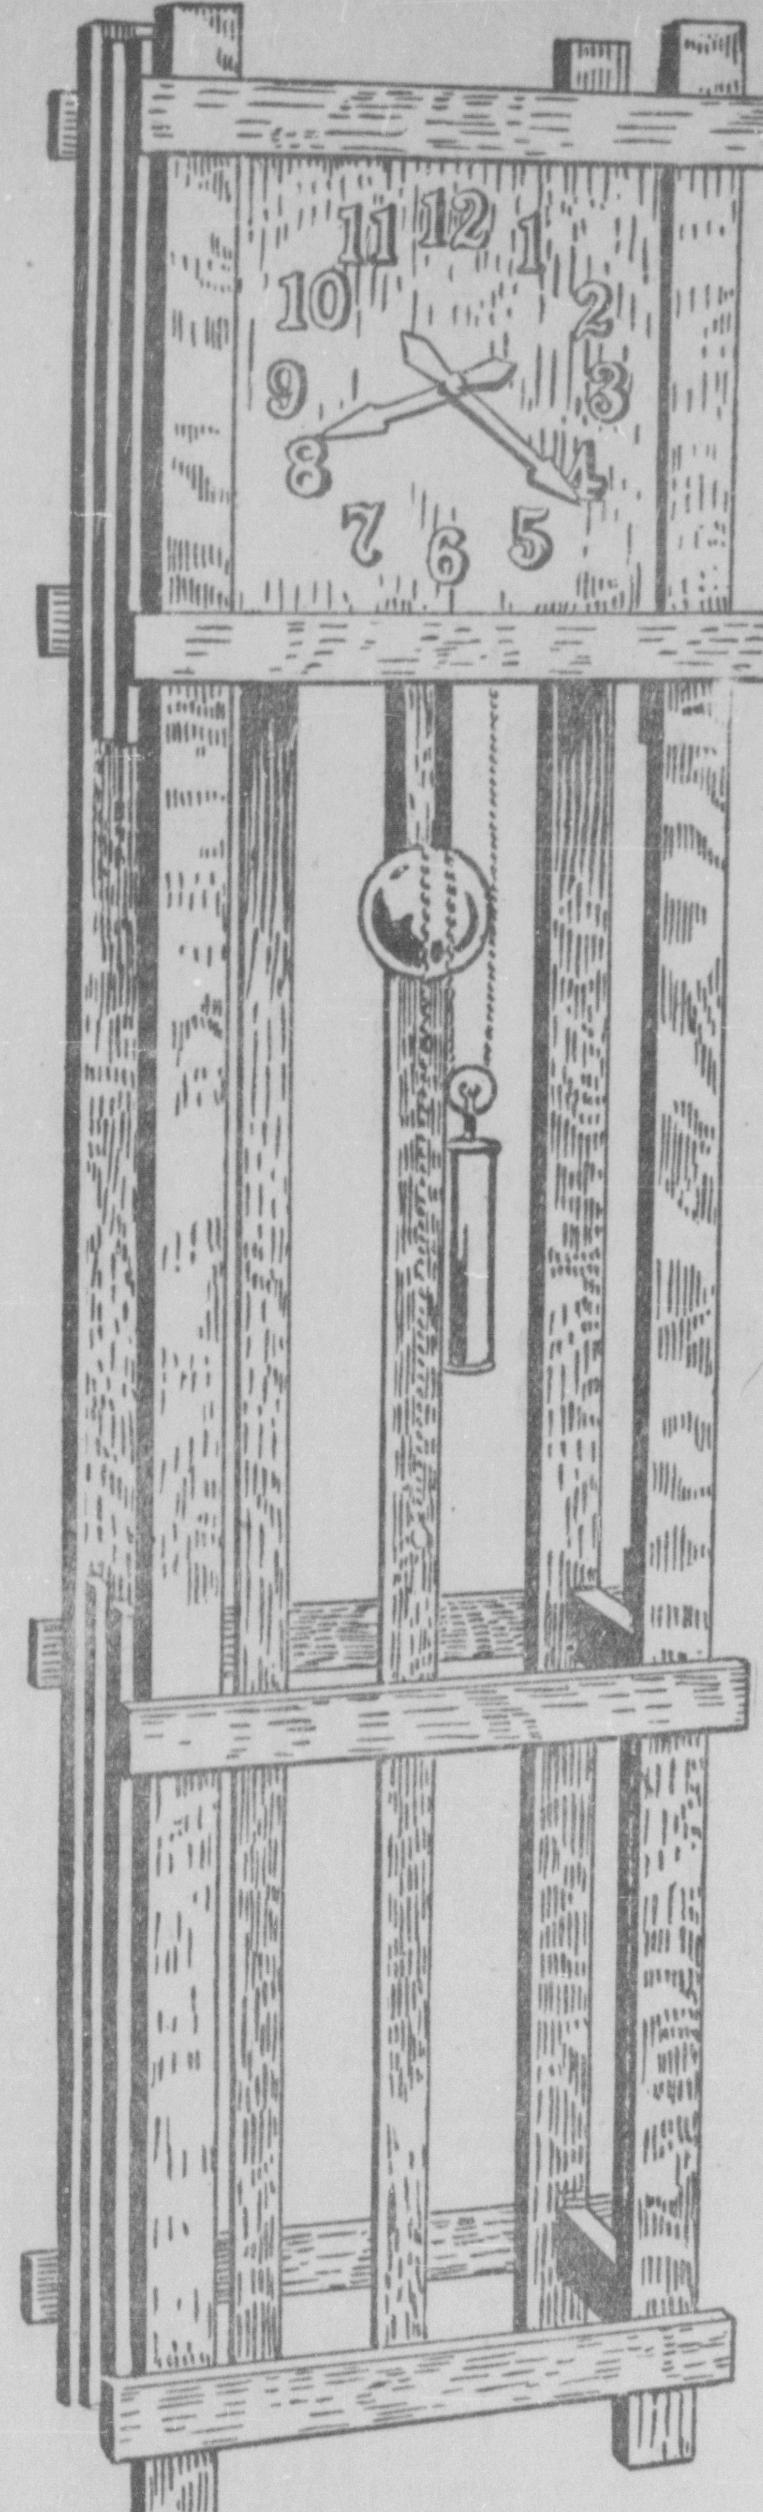

Instead of the monthly assessment plan of financing the project, as was employed last year, the assessments will be fixed at $1.50 each. A class of 100 or more is expected. All applications are expected to be filed before October 1 with any of the following officers: Misses Clara Thurston, Pauline Pine, Emily Tansey, Vera Veal, Edith Gardner, Mrs. Frank Fullerton, Mrs. Frank Kennedy.

HIGH SCHOOL MAY NOT HAVE ELEVEN

It is said to be probable that Washington High school, for the first time in years, may be unable this season to put a representative high school football eleven in the field and the news will doubtless be received with a keen regret on the part of the large number of loyal supporters of the game.

Some disappointment was felt last week when but ten or twelve candidates showed up for opening practice and the disappointment turned to positive despair when the strongest kind of agitation failed to bring out more than eight or nine Monday. The failure of response is attributed to various sources, etc being the fact that many of the old players, nearly all in fact, graduated last spring. Assurance is given, however, that the project will not be allowed to die until every means of sustaining it are exhausted.

Budget Commission Personnel Changed

By a decision of the Ohio Supreme court announced Tuesday the membership of the County Budget Commission throughout the state is changed.

While only one member of the Commission is affected by the decision—the president of the largest school district retiring in certain instances and the city solicitor in certain other instances retiring, and the prosecuting attorney of the county, in every instance, being restored to membership on the commission—nevertheless the change is one of vast importance and really should result, taking the entire state into consideration, to the advantage of the taxpayers.

The original statute creating the Budget Commission provided for three members—the county auditor, the mayor of the largest municipality in the county and prosecuting attorney of the county. This law gave the county two members on the Commission and the municipality one.

Later this statute was amended, changing the personnel of the Commission so as to give the city two representatives on the Commission and the county only one.

The enactment of the later statute, it is claimed, was urged by the larger cities, the claim being that they should control the Commission, because they were larger contributors to the public funds.

The Supreme court holds that the later statute is void and inoperative, thus restoring the Commission as composed originally.

In nearly all of the counties of the state the Commission as provided in the original law, now restored by the ruling of the court is more satisfactory. The change removes from the Commission one of the heaviest tax spending officials and restores one who spends but very little of the public funds.

The schools are, perhaps, the largest users of funds, especially the city schools, and it is safe to say that far better rates of taxation can be secured by eliminating from the Commission, which fixes the rates of taxation, the representative of that branch of the public service which is always demanding more funds, generally receiving more, and which is never provided for to its satisfaction.

Under the most economical management possible and under the most favorable of conditions, it is a difficult task to secure enough revenue to conduct the public schools according to the high standard demanded by later day methods. In order that other branches of the public service may not suffer by reason of lack of money, it is necessary sometimes to cut the school levy to a point, which is ruinous in the opinion of school board members. The official directly and singly interested in the schools can not be nearly so economical as the man whose interests are centered in other branches of the public service.

The repeal of the law which provided for the Budget Commission and provided "interior limitations" in the matter of taxation, is one of the bits of destructive legislation which might have been omitted to the advantage of the taxpayers of the state or if special conditions in a few localities demanded some legislative action, to provide needed relief, it might have been more carefully done.

The sweeping change accomplished by the repeal of the original law and the enactment of the law just held invalid by the Supreme court, while furnishing some measure of relief in particular instances has been found, in view of the tremendous additions, made to the duplicate by the Warner law, to lay down the bars so that the powers of the officials inclined to be extravagant in the expenditure of the public money, were not sufficiently restricted.

Most people are pleased that the Supreme court found a way to restore a part of the original law and only regret that the decision was not far reaching enough to restore the "interior limitations" provided for in the original law.

Russian Domination Preferable to the Massacres In Belgium and France

By SAMUEL HARDEN CHURCH, Secretary Carnegie Institute

THE murder of the Austrian crown prince, a usurper and invader, means nothing compared with the murder of the tens of thousands of happy men who have already fallen before the emperor's impotent vengeance. Russian domination, although there was no danger of that, WOULD HAVE BEEN FAR PREFERABLE TO THE MASSACRES IN BELGIUM AND FRANCE.

THE EMPEROR'S INEXCUSABLE PROVOCATION OF WAR HAS STUNG HUMANITY TO THE INNER-MOST DEPTHS OF ITS SOUL. BESIDES DRENCHING EUROPE WITH HUMAN BLOOD, HE IS GIVING HER A NEW POPULATION OF WEEPING WIDOWS AND BEREFT MOTHERS OF FATHERLESS CHILDREN AND OF MEN WITHOUT ARMS AND LEGS.

He has made himself the chief delinquent in the greatest outrage that has ever crushed the heart of the world, and in the end an impotent humanity will not stop until it has struck the scepters from the arrogant hands that now hold them in Germany, in Austria—yes, and in Russia.

Poetry For Today

IN SUNSHINE OF SEPTEMBER.

In the sunshine of September, in the golden light of fall,
Through the clearings by the pasture
I can hear the Bob Whites call
In the sunshine bright and splendid
Over all this hate and strife
Shines the tenderness and beauty
Of the quiet dreams of life.

In the sunshine of September gleams
a beauty in the cloud,
And the fields are fields of asters and
the stately golden-rod;
In the sunshine, laughing, smiling,
Love goes by to dream with those
Who in haunts of June remembered
Dream the old dreams of the rose.

In the sunshine of September there is
peace in hearts that pray
For the love of God to touch them in their conflict far away;
In the sunshine of the autumn
All the world goes forth to sing
In the gladness of the spirit
That the dreams of beauty bring.

Let's be thinking of something else
Than battle and grief and tears;
Let's be thinking of things to come
In the bloom of the far-on years;
Let's be thinking of kindlier hearts,
And the spirit that brings again
The beauty of earth and tenderness
Of Christ to the souls of men.

WE, the People of England.

Every one has heard of "the three tailors of Tooley street," but it is not generally known that only two of them were actually tailors. The three men were John Grose, tailor, Tooley street; Thomas Satterly, tailor, Weston street, and George Sandham, grocer, Bermondsey street. They were accustomed to meet after business hours at a public house in Tooley street in Southwark to drink beer, smoke their pipes, talk politics and discuss public affairs. During the movement for Catholic emancipation, when Canning was prime minister, these three worthies determined to petition parliament on the subject, and they commenced the document with these words, "We, the people of England!"—London Express.

Sacred Shells.

The clever priests of China often insert tiny images of Buddha within the shells of a living oyster, which are left undisturbed for about a year. At the expiration of that time the images are covered with mother of pearl to such an extent that they appear to have grown in this natural manner. The Chinese people hold these shells in great reverence, believing that Buddha dwells within them. However, should a Christian chance to look upon one of the shells it has no further value to them, as its charm is supposed to have left it.—Scientific American.

COWARDLY ATTEMPT TO BURN HUGE BARN

Unknown Fire Bug Kindles Blaze in Mammoth Barn on Grant Hays Farm Three Miles North of Bloomingburg.

CORN CUTTERS EXTINGUISH FLAMES

Blood Hounds Take Up Trail and Follow It Toward Railroad Where it Is Lost—No Reason Known for Miscreant's Act—Barn Is Largest in Northern Fayette County.

Only the timely discovery of a blaze kindled in mammoth barn on the Grant Hays farm, three miles north of Bloomingburg on the Bloomingburg and Midway pike, prevented the structure and all of its contents from being licked up by flames late Wednesday night, and a few hours later bloodhounds were trailing the miscreant who kindled the blaze, but the search was fruitless and the trail was eventually lost near the B. & O. railroad, north of Bloomingburg.

It was between eight and nine o'clock at night, and two corn cutters were sleeping on the second floor of the barn. They were aroused by a light in the barn, and the noise of someone running from the building. A moment later the fumes of burning straw, and the appearance of the fire gaining rapid headway warned the men that the building was really on fire, and that prompt and strenuous work was necessary to prevent the flames eating their way into nearby hay and straw. Springing down the ladder to the floor below the men dashed toward the fire, and while one was drawing the burning bale of straw from among the other straw, the other rushed to a nearby water tank and seizing a bucket he dashed bucketful after bucketful of water on the flames until they were extinguished. One of the men had his hands painfully burned where he

STATE FAIR A BIG SUCCESS MID-WINTER SHOW TO BE HELD

Ohio State Fair, 1914, was complete. No frauds. No arrests. Respectable, dignified in all its parts. Organized and systematized. No confusion. No wasted effort. For first time Iowa and New York state fairs came same week. This slightly reduced entries, but Ohio still had greatest stock show. War and rain were handicaps, but thousands came. Grounds were beauty beyond compare. Flowers, flags, music and good humor were in evidence. Some departments touched record marks. No free passes worried politicians and petty office holders. In January a Mid Winter Fair will be held, state fair ground. The "Big Four" will combine, viz.: The state Apple, Corn, Dairy, and Poultry shows. Each great in itself.

A score of agricultural and breeders' meetings will be held in Columbus same week to concentrate, unify, and promote producing interests. Invest at home. Shun bubbles far away. They 'bust'. The Truth Will Boom Ohio. Opportunity abides here.

GERMANS MAKE DECISIVE STAND

Strong Position Chosen to Give Battle to Pursuing Allies.

LONG ENGAGEMENT EXPECTED

All Available Reserves of the German Army Being Rushed Into France From Cologne—Brunt of Conflict North of Rheims, West of the Argonne Ridge and North of Verdun. The Official Communications.

London, Sept. 17.—The German right wing is now encircled by the allies, according to an Amiens dispatch to the Daily News.

Paris, Sept. 17.—Beyond the meager announcement contained in the war department's official communiqué that the allied forces had not given way at any point, Paris knows little of the situation north of the Aisne. From various reports arriving here it is evident that the great battle in which the Germans are expected to make their decisive stand in France has not yet begun in earnest, and that only skirmishes have occurred between the rear guards of the enemy and the pursuing forces of the allies by which they were overtaken.

The position taken up by the Germans is well chosen, and a long engagement between the opposing lines can be expected. According to the best information available here the brunt of the conflict is north of Rheims, west of the Argonne ridge and north of Verdun. The resistance which the Germans are offering is, however, almost impossible to estimate, nor is it clear whether the enemy intends to make his last stand in his present position or merely cover his retreat to the river Meuse.

One report received here is to the effect that all the available reserves of the Germans are to be rushed into France from their base at Cologne.

The skill displayed by the German commanders in keeping their forces practically intact is taken to indicate that the enemy is preparing for a battle on a huge scale, and no one here believes that the Germans will withdraw from France without a final and decisive test of the strength of the opposing lines.

The French war office's communiqué reads: "Military headquarters has not communicated any new details of the engagements proceeding on our front. As has already been said, nothing must be taken as a surprise which happens in a battle lasting several days, and there is no conclusion to be inferred in any sense. We believe, however, we have not given way at any point."

are reforming their main lines, filling up the gaps in the regiments that lost the heaviest from the reserve lines, and refitting with ammunition.

With the armies of General Von Kluck and General Von Buelow combined north of the Aisne river, the army of the Grand Duke of Wurtemburg holds the line from the river Aisne to Craonne, north of Rheims, to the new position in the Argonne, where the armies of Crown Prince Frederick Wilhelm and of the crown prince of Bavaria are in complete strength, with headquarters still maintained at Montfaucon.

The Germans hold the lines of the Meuse, and have straightened out their lines so that they are now in touch with the strong fortress of Metz and the German reserve lines in Lorraine.

The British official press bureau gave out a statement which says: "The general position along the Aisne river continues very favorable. The enemy has delivered several counter attacks, especially against the First army corps. These have been repulsed and the Germans have given way slightly before our troops and the French armies on our right and left. The enemy's loss is very heavy, and we have taken 200 prisoners."

AUSTRIAN ARMIES GETTING TOGETHER

Berlin Reports Big Victory In Eastern Theater of War.

GENERAL DANCKL AVOIDS TRAP

Russians Claim to Have Inflicted Terrible Loss Upon the Austrian Armies Before They Effected a Junction—Formidable German Force In East Prussia About to Invade Russian Poland.

London, Sept. 17.—From the eastern theater of the war come conflicting reports.

The general staff at Berlin authorizes the announcement that the German-Austrian forces along the battle front have won a decided victory. According to the admission of Russian prisoners taken in East Prussia the Russian Vilna army has been forced southward to positions on the Vistula river. The report also says that the Russian attempt to isolate the army of General Dankl, which comprised the Austrian left wing, has failed. This army has joined the Austrian main army.

The Germans claim that they have evidence that the Russian mobilization was nearly completed before the war was declared from the fact that parts of the Third Siberian rifle corps were defeated in the battle near Lyck. Their mobilization and transportation to the front could not have been accomplished, the Germans claim, in the period of only six weeks.

A dispatch from Rome says that the two Austrian armies commanded by General Dankl and General Auffenberg have joined forces at Rzesow, thirteen miles northeast of Jarostow, and that in the course of this operation the Russians inflicted upon them a loss that cost 40 per cent of their numbers.

A report from St. Petersburg claims that the Russian advance is closing in on Przemysl, and that the Russians have captured and destroyed on the Vistula an armed steamship and a number of other steam craft. Another report says that the Austro-German forces in their retreat left thirty-six cannon upon which were the kaiser's initials. The Russians reported that they took 5,000 prisoners at Turobin and 5,000 at Lubin. Richalowski, the Russian military critic says that the way is now clear for the Russian advance to Budapest.

Another St. Petersburg dispatch dispatch says: "Besides at least 100,000 prisoners taken by the Russian army during the fighting of recent days the loss to Austria during the invasion is killed and wounded is undoubtedly 250,000 men, perhaps more."

The Germans have concentrated in East Prussia a force of 750,000 men. This is believed to be a larger force than is necessary for the defense of the province, and it is considered that this force may be used for the invasion of Russian Poland and the capture of Warsaw.

THE GERMAN SIDE OF IT

London, Sept. 17.—An official statement issued by the German war office at Berlin emphasizes the fact that the Germans have now succeeded in checking the entire offensive movement of the allies in France.

It is stated that the German army is now entrenched in new strong positions, and that at a number of points the Germans have succeeded in driving the French-British lines back on their supports. So far as the entire situation in France is concerned, the reports of the general staff all agree that the new plan of campaign is working out in a very satisfactory manner. It is also made evident that the German forces which are operating in East Prussia continue to drive the Russians back, and it is believed that an invasion in force of Russian Poland may be about to commence.

On both the eastern and western frontiers, the report says, the German forces are carrying out their general plan of campaign with uninterrupted success.

OHIO HAPPENINGS

Found Plot to Boost Prices.

Cleveland, Sept. 17.—The grand jury investigating the advance in food prices reported that its members are convinced that combinations control the prices of meats and staple groceries, and that "prices were forced up by agreement and without any logical reason for the increases." The jury however, is unable, it says, to obtain sufficient evidence to convict. No true bill was returned.

KAISER NOT A WAR LORD

Bordeaux, Sept. 17.—Paul Albert Helmer, the Alsatian patriot who while at the head of the anti-German league had to give up his propaganda immediately before the outbreak of the present war and flee for his life, is now here leading the life temporarily of a peaceful citizen. Speaking of Kaiser Wilhelm he said:

"The kaiser, whose character I know so well, is not a war lord. If the world knew him as I do he would not be so generally misunderstood in this respect. He is neither a war lord nor a strong military character in the Bismarckian sense. The kaiser is merely a weak, vain and very emotional man. As he is fond of show, so also is he at heart attached to peace; but once the present crisis arose he was driven headlong into a current which proved too strong for him."

REVENUE BILL IS FORMING

Various Forms of Negotiable Paper to Be Taxed.

Washington, Sept. 17.—Work was begun by Chairman Underwood and other members of the house committee on ways and means on the proposed emergency revenue bill. In the caucus held by the Democrats the committee received definite instructions concerning what was to be taxed that will yield approximately $65,000,000. The rest of the $100,000,000 required for the purpose of government will be raised by the levy of taxes on various forms of negotiable paper enumerated in Schedule A of the war revenue act passed by the Republican congress at the time of the Spanish war in 1898. As there is a wide range of articles in this schedule, the work of the committee will consist in choosing the articles that will produce the needed $35,000,000 or so of revenue.

The instruments to be chosen for purpose of taxation at this time and the rates that will be imposed are details that have not yet been perfected by the committee.

Y.M.C.A. SECRETARY OUTLINES WINTER EDUCATIONAL WORK

Classes Will be Taught in Bookkeeping, Stenography, Mechanical and Structural Drawing and Show Card Writing Under Direction of Practical Local Teachers—Classes Start Next Month.

"We are making every effort to establish a precedent in Y. M. C. A. education work in Washington C. H. this winter and indications point to a most successful season."

Secretary Walter Patton of the Y. M. C. A. delivered himself of the above statement in discussing the plans and outlook of the campaign work to be undertaken under the auspices of the educational department or the Association this fall and winter, and which will be launched during the month of October.

"One thing that I want understood, particularly, is that these educational classes, unlike many others, will be of a personal nature," said Mr. Patton. "The training will not be applied to the class, as a class only. Each student will receive such attention from the teacher as will allow him to advance best. In this way, the student will advance just as rapidly as his time or ability to study will permit."

The courses are thoroughly practical and each instructor is using the same methods by day as he will teach his pupils at night. It will take an enrollment of ten to start any class. It is to be understood, however, that each class that is started will complete the year's work.

"Classes will be held in the evenings at the Y. M. C. A. from 7:30 to 9:25 p. m. In opening this department we expect to start with four courses—stenography, mechanical and structural drawing, bookkeeping, show card writing—all under the direction of competent teachers of practical experience. If we can secure the necessary enrollment of ten pupils to a class we will later take up courses of instruction in agriculture, manual training and salesmanship."

Mr. Patton, in launching this highly commendable work is supported by a corps of instructors of splendid ability in their various departments. Cost little; pay much—Want ads.

More than 300 ministers were present at the Thursday's sessions.

WEDNESDAY P. M.

The Wednesday afternoon and evening sessions of the Ohio Conference were of great interest, and each session was liberally attended, both by pastors and the laity.

The feature of the evangelistic hour was a stirring address by "the statesman of the conference", Rev. W. F. Oldham, D. D., who spent part of his life in India, and who for four years was a Bishop. He is now the corresponding secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions, and is recognized as one of the most able divines in the missionary department.

Rev. Alpha G. Kynett, D. D., field secretary of the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension, delivered a very able address at the foreign missionary and church extension work as affected by the European war.

Rev. Oldham branded the war a result of the absence of Christianity among the warring nations. He spoke of the horrors of war, and the need of continuous prayer for peace. Other statements made were: Every spot where missions are is sorely troubled and in need of aid; let the American people to a man stand by what President Wilson urged; "I thank God for President Wilson, the man of peace"; calls for aid will come soon, and the proper way to respond is through the Board of Foreign Missions.

Following his address stereoptican views, taken in India, were shown and explained by Rev. Baker.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 18TH.
8:30 a. m.—Devotional service, conducted by Bishop Moore. Conference business.

2:00 p. m.—Anniversary of the Woman's Home Missionary Society, Mrs. E. W. Seeds, corresponding secretary, presiding. Address, "World's Power in America," Rev. B. S. Haywood, D. D.

3:00 p. m.—Church Temperance Service, Dr. T. H. Campbell, presiding. Address by Rev. Clarence True Wilson, D. D., general secretary.

4:00 p. m.—Evangelistic hour, Rev. P. E. White, presiding. Address by Dr. Harry Ward, "Social Evangelism."

5:30 p. m.—Education and social service, Dr. Luther Freeman, presiding. Addresses by Rev. Herbert Welch, D. D., president of Ohio Wesleyan University, and Rev. Harry Ward, D. D., secretary Methodist Federation for Social Service.

Wilson, of Cincinnati, president of the National Paving Brick Co., is in that city taking over the brick plants of the South Zanesville Sewer Pipe & Brick Co. and the Harris Brick Co. The working capital of the new concern is said to be $65,000. Wm. Worthington, of this city, is treasurer of the company. A contract to furnish seven million pavers for the Guernsey state highway has been secured, according to the paper quoted above.
